

The Daily Gazetteer:

SATURDAY, JUNE 28. 1740.

MON. 1568

7th 1568.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

Paris, July 2. N. S.

De Bellemont, Grand Audiencer, i. e. one of the chief Officers of the Seals of this Kingdom, had his House broke open, and was robb'd amongst other Things, of a very fine Ring, and ready Money to the Value, upon the Whole, of 20000 Livres: And we are told that when Thief was got out of Town he was murder'd by Comrades. Last Week a Merchant was assassinated coming out of Meaux about four o'Clock in the morning towards this City. Four Balls were found in his Body, and his Throat was cut. 'Tis probable he had made some Struggle to defend himself, for his Hands were full of Hair, and there was a by the Corpse the Knife and Pistol with which he was murder'd. They write from Orleans, that Saturday about 5 in the Evening there fell such a Storm of Hail, that it ruin'd about 30 of the neighbouring Parishes, and did above 40000 Livres Damage in that City.

Constantinople, May 4. N. S. After the Conclusion of Treaty of Friendship betwixt this Court and that of the Chevalier Finocchietti, who negotiated concluded it, has made Presents to several Persons. has given 10000 Reals to the Reis Effendi, the Count de Bonneval, who had a great share in the Conclusion of it, and 5000 to Ghicci, Dragoman or Interpreter. The Grand Seigneur takes 6 Months Time to procure the Accession the Regencies of Algier, Tunis, and Tripoli, to said Treaty, the Conditions of which are so much to the Advantage of the Neapolitan Court as is surprising to all that know what they are. The Marquis de Villeneuve the French Ambassador has lately receiv'd that he receiv'd Instructions from his Court to support the Chevalier Finocchietti in his Negotiation, that they did not arrive till the Treaty was concluded. The British and Dutch Ambassadors complained, that the Chevalier did not make his Character of Ambassador known, according to Custom; to which the latter made Answer, That he had not yet receiv'd a Publick Character, but that as soon as he would not fail to conform to the Ceremonial. The Turks that were taken Prisoners in the late War with the Russians, and that are now return'd home, are mightily of the Civility with which they were treated. The last Letters from Babylon put it out of Doubt, that Persia certainly intends to attack the both on the Confines of Armenia and in Egypt; which has oblig'd our Ministry to give Orders for Forces, and to send Ali Basia to Cairo, to turn a Person there whom the Government has very Reason to suspect. This Apprehension of a War with Persia, together with the present Dearth of Provisions, makes the People very uneasy. It been likewise resolv'd forthwith to execute all the Articles of the late Treaty of Peace concluded with the Emperor, and to facilitate the Regulation of the Frontiers between the Two Empires, in order that Troops in Hungary may be sent to Asia.

Belgrade, June 22. N. S. On the 7th Instant the City of Belgrade was put into the Hands of the Turks, three Days after there was an Exchange of the Serb and Turkish Ambassadors. The Revolt said have happen'd at Constantinople is not confirm'd. Petersburg, June 14. N. S. As in the Examination of Wolinski several things have come out not at all to the Honour of his Brother, he has been also suspended and committed to the Fortrefs, as is likewise the Commandant of a Place next to the Ukrain. A Waggon guarded by 20 Men was brought to Days ago into the Fortrefs, and such Numbers of People came to see what was the Matter, that Guards had much ado to keep them off. 'Tis not known but some Prisoner or Prisoners came in it, but is not yet known. Four of those detain'd in the Fortrefs were put to the Rack a Week ago, to make them confess several things of Importance of which they are accused.

Berlin, June 28. N. S. The King who continues at Charlottenbourg, reviewing his Forces, having observed that many of his Soldiers were too old for the Service has dismiss'd them, with an Allowance of a Rixdollar per Month for their Subsistence during Life. His Majesty has also resolv'd to found an Hospital of Invalids after the Manner of that of Paris. His Departure for Koningsberg is fix'd for the 7th of next Month. What has been publish'd in the Papers with Regard to the Baron de Pollnitz is not strictly true. 'Tis certain, indeed, that the King honours him with his Friendship, and has given him Proof of it; but the Report of his being made Grand Master of the Ceremonies is groundless, which being moreover an Office never conferr'd at this Court upon Persons of a distinguish'd Family, the Baron thinks the Post of Chamberlain, which he enjoys under the King, much more for his Honour. On the 25th a Fire broke out at Spandaw, by which the Church and several Houses were burnt to the Ground, and his Majesty has been there to give the necessary Orders for Repair of the Damage. Direction has been given that for the future the Queen Dowager shall have the Title of Queen-Mother; and forasmuch as whenever that Princess saw the King she gave him the Title of Majesty, he has desir'd her to call him always her Son; a Denomination which he esteems more dear to him than the most pompous Titles. 'Tis said that the Interview of the Queen-Mother with her Brother the King of Great Britain will be during her Son's Journey to Prussia. When his Majesty gave Leave to the Lieutenant-General the Count de Denhoff to resign, he settled a Pension upon him of 2000 Crowns a Year. His Majesty in consideration of the good and faithful Services of Frederick of his Vater de Chambre, has given him the Territory of Czernichow near Rheinfelsberg, which is valued at 20000 Rixdollars. His Majesty has desir'd M. Rollin at Paris, to continue his Correspondence with him as formerly.

Hanover, June 28. N. S. The Baron de Munchausen, one of our Ministers, is return'd from Berlin, and has given his Majesty an Account of the Success of his Commission, and of the particular Marks of Distinction with which he was honour'd at that Court. His Prussian Majesty, to give an authentick Evidence of his good Disposition to the King of Great Britain and his August Family, defray'd the Expences of the Baron and all his Retinue; so that the good Harmony betwixt the Two Courts seems as perfectly restor'd as heretofore. The Count de Truchses Ambassador Extraordinary from the Court of Prussia, is just arriv'd here with a numerous Retinue.

Those of the 3d from Petersburg say, that Mr. Edmund Burdett is arriv'd there from England, and has taken on him the Title of British Consul, in the Room of Mr. Rondeau deceased; and that the Swedish Court gives the strongest Assurances that they will not make use of their Treaty with the Turks but in case that Russia makes War with either Power; that if it happens on the contrary that the Grand Signior should break with Russia, Sweden will not think itself oblig'd to take part in such War, and that moreover Sweden desires nothing so much as to be upon good Terms with the Court of Russia.

Letters of the 16th from Dresden say, that the Baron de Loewendahl, whose Death we mention'd last Thursday, was found dead in his Bed, with no Symptoms of an Apoplexy but rather of a Suffocation. He had been at Court but the Day before, and went to Bed without any Complaint.

'Tis confirm'd, that the Princess Mary of Great Britain, now Princess of Hesse-Cassel, made her Publick Entry there last Monday Se'nnight in a very grand Manner, with the Attendance of all the Nobility of that Country, being met by his Highness Prince Frederick two Leagues out of Town.

Letters of the 7th Instant N. S. from Cadix take notice, that 10 or 12 Days before, it was said that Admiral Pintado's Squadron of 14 Men of War was sail'd from Ferrol to give Battle to Admiral Haddock, and that it was given out since, that the said Squadron was to come to Cadiz; but now they say that 'tis return'd to Ferrol.

THE apparent Encouragement I had to stand a Candidate for the Office of Bridge-Master, will, I humbly presume, excuse my Friends Continuance of the Poll till Yesterday. I return my most hearty Thanks to the many Worthy Gentlemen who have appeared in my Favour: And tho' I am very far from complaining of those Gentlemen who have supported Mr. Piddington's Election (whom I now wish well in his Office) yet I can't be insensible of the Injurious Representations of my Case in the Daily-Post, and the bad Consequences thereof to myself. I humbly hope for your future Favour, and remain with the heartiest Wishes for your Prosperity.
